Dear children

I hope you have had a good week and that you enjoyed doing the activities that we put on the website for you.

This week I have read you a poem by Shirley Hughes, called Colours.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=V5_m3lbpjhM

She is one of my favourite authors and she also illustrates her own books.

When you have listened to the poem maybe you could think of a colour and write down all the things you can see in your house and garden that are that colour. If you wanted to you could try and use some of the things in your list to make your own poem and illustrate it.

I have had a go and I choose yellow as my colour:

Yellow bananas

Yellow bowl

Yellow football

Yellow cushion

Yellow washing up gloves

This is my poem:

Yellow bananas, yellow bowl

Yellow football in the back of the goal

Can you spot the rhyming words in my poem and in Shirley Hughes' poem?
