SPAG

This week, we are learning about the suffix -less

A suffix is a group of letters we can join onto the end of a word to change it into a new word.

We can change a noun (thing) into an adjective (describing word) by adding the suffix -less.

The suffix -less means without:

Something which is hopeless is without hope. Something which is painless is without pain.
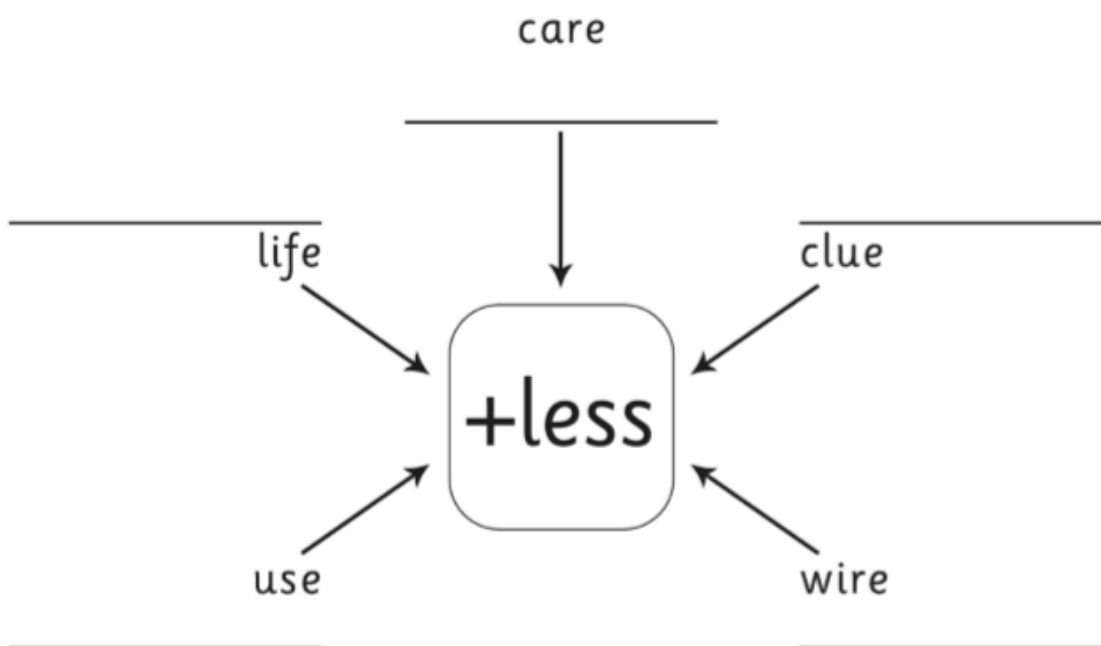

Example:

Pain + less = painless.

I thought having a filling was going to hurt but in fact it was painless.

Activity 1

Add the suffix -less to the end of these nouns to turn them into an adjective:

care

life   +less   clue

use   wire

Activity 2

Write a sentence using each of the adjectives you have made.

Make sure you check for capital letters and full stops!
