

Update from Space4Autism

We are not doing the training remotely as we feel it loses a lot, the biggest thing for us is that parents are talking to each other and sharing experiences.

We do have a helpline that people can ring for a chat, they do need to be members but if they are not they can request a membership form by emailing the info@space4autism.org

the number is 07845 007033, this is being manned by Kath Hynd and Nickie Sutton and is offering great support to carers.

we also have a private facebook group called S4A Supporting each other, again people need to be members. There is no cost to membership, it is just so we can monitor who is joining.

We are constantly putting any useful resources on here and have a facebook live art session twice a week.

We are offering remote counselling but this is for adults with ASC

We are also having telephone OT appointments so if they are registered I can take their details for this, it is limited appointments though.
